On the other hand, local chairmen of the Brotherhood of Engine Men and Firemen received advice from their eastern heads in which the rights of the railroads to protect their property and the legitimacy of the refusal of workers to operate defective "power" were conceded.

Later in the day, a wire was received from the same officials quoting a wire received from Vice President Wells of the Santa Fe, a follow-up.

CALL WALKOUT "A SIN"
Questioned yesterday regarding statements to the effect that the walkout of members of the Big Four Brotherhoods at Needles and other points was merely a subterfuge to extend aid to striking shopmen, D. E. Crayne and K. B. Walton, general chairman of the four brotherhoods of engineers and firemen, respectively, declared last night that "any walkout is a sin."

The striking shopen had their strike won, before the other employees became involved," he declared jointly, "but the condition of equipment which these latter employees were compelled to operate, and the conditions under which they were compelled to work, made their action necessary. Local officials of those brotherhoods declared late yesterday that they were investigating the situation.

Firemen of the Union Pacific system at San Bernardino, called for work on three engines last night, refused to respond, charging that the equipment is unsafe and that the guards are a menace to their lives.

Although other Big Four employees were ready for work, it was said, this action on the part of the firemen made impossible the movement of trains.

It was reported that passenger train No. 204 from Los Angeles, which arrived at San Bernardino at 10:30 p.m., was unable to proceed toward Salt Lake City, but

DAILY TRADE TALK

Business Under Restraint, But Ready to Boom With Passing Crisis; by Way of Review

Dun's Review today will say: "The uncertainties of the labor situation, continuing for still another week, have not unduly imposed further restraint on business activities. Various encouraging features that would otherwise attain prominence are overshadowed by existing strikes, which compel wide attention, and sentiment is unfavorably affected. With the outcome of the industrial controversies in doubt, different interests are disinclined to undertake new important commitments, the disposition being to defer aggressive action, and not a few transactions are prevented by the obstacles of restricted production and retarded shipments. Inability to secure needed material in regular channels leads to the seeking of new sources of supply in some instances with the placing of orders of an emergency character, and premiums frequently rise where there is any advantage on deliveries."

DAY IN REVIEW

There was a mixed sentiment in local business circles yesterday. The time up of the Santa Fe by the Big Four had a somewhat depressing effect during the early part of the day which was later more or less discounted by encouraging reports from the East, and by the market strength in the face of the rail crisis. A feeling of midsummer lethargy manifested itself throughout the financial district and the heat, combined with the usual week-end disorganization, and general uncertainty tended to make the day one of moderate activity developing into a period of watchful waiting.

Fundamentally, the situation is worse than it has been. The Federal Reserve statement shows an improvement over last week. Demand is strong for basic commodities and there is no question that business will boom when the retarding influences represented by the strikes are withdrawn. In fact, the average price of twenty representative rails advanced yesterday 17 per cent. It is estimated in the stock market that in strike crises the rail stocks are likely to advance. The physical valuation is not materially affected; earnings up to the present time have been well sustained, and the goods must be moved eventually. There is really no question for depreciation in rails, and it is unlikely that there will be any serious decline and should such a strike assume more serious proportions than it has already done. Los Angeles is in splendid condition to meet whatever rigors may be imposed. Food supplies in this district are ample, and storehouses are bulging. Crops are abundant and the market is filled with fresh vegetables at moderate prices. There is an ample supply of motor trucks to move the supplies, the great Pacific highway is unobstructed, and our harbors are filled with ships for whom there is a great surplus of oil. A few people may be inconvenienced or hampered in their transportation plans, but there is no occasion for alarm.

It is improbable that shipments of merchandise will be seriously delayed, for it is the consensus of opinion that the tie-up will be of short duration, but even should this prove the case a few extra days apart via the Canal.

Crude oil production in all fields in the country for the week was 1,509,317 barrels daily, a gain of 11,860 barrels over the preceding week. There is nothing sensational and nothing alarming in the recent price cuts by automobile manufacturers, in the opinion of automotive industries, which points out its weekly review that revisions have been made in the price of automobiles, which is a large output and a consequent lowering of overhead and manufacturing costs. These reductions, the review says, are followed by a second series of cuts, which is characterized as highly improbable. No company in the world, it is asserted, expect to operate at a loss.

CALIFORNIA LEADS

California leads all the States in the country in the production of electricity by water power. This fact appears in a report of the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, which was just received by E. H. Rollins & Sons.

This report shows that for the year 1921 the production of hydroelectric power in California was 3,327,341,000 kilowatt hours, this upsurge of the first ranking State in the country. New York's production for the same year was 1,668,000,000 kilowatt hours less than California's.

During the year California produced over 21 per cent of the total hydroelectric power generated throughout the entire country, this State showing a very considerable increase over the previous year, while the figures for the country as a whole decreased by over 7 per cent.

This seems due to the fact that California put into operation a number of large hydroelectric generating plants during the year and also to the fact that this State did not suffer from the general business depression as much as eastern industrial communities.

During 1921 California, Oregon and Utah were the only States in the Union which did not consume any coal in the generating of electric power. California led the country in the amount of electricity consumed in electric generation with Texas a close second. California's fuel oil consumption for this purpose was over 3,340,000 barrels.

California ranked third in the United States in total electric power produced during 1921, its production having amounted to almost 4,000,000,000 kilowatt hours, or 9.12 per cent of the total for the country.

These figures refer to power produced by public utility plants only.

EMPLOYEES HOLD STOCK

Eleven thousand Standard Oil Company of California employees purchased $5,957,794 worth of the stock during the first year of operation of its stock investment and savings plan, as shown by the annual report of the trustees just made public. The trustees report covers the fiscal year ending May 31, 1922.

United Eastern Shows Small Operating Profit; I.B.A. Officers Nominated

United Eastern earned 44 cents a share last year after depreciation, depletion and Federal taxes, according to the annual statement made public yesterday. However, depletion of the available ore stocks, and sentiment is unfavorably affected. With the plant during the year amounted to 57 cents, leaving a net operating profit of only 3 cents, with Federal taxes to be paid out of that. The annual dividends amounted to 40 cents a share.

Unfavorable features of the statement was the showing of rapid depletion of the main ore body which promises exhaustion within a few years. This fact, however, has long been discounted by the market. Stockholders may be encouraged by the report's showing that block ore reserves are still sufficient for eighteen months' operations and that cash, Liberty bonds, and bullion in solution in transit total $99,994, representing approximately 72 cents a share in cash on hand. The company has no indebtedness other than current monthly expenses.

Speculative possibilities for improvement in the company's position that tend to offset the steady decrease in the ore reserves of the old Colorado mine, where United Eastern holds a 60 per cent interest in the El Tigre mine, 10 miles from the main plant, is the fact that the company is being opened in the Oakland district, and that the company will develop the extensions of present developed veins, but will test out the theories of some of the best geologists in America, who hold that recurrent ore bodies will probably be found down to a depth of at least 2000 feet.

A digest of the company's report for the year ended Dec. 31, 1921, follows: Ninety-seven thousand four hundred and thirteen tons of ore milled, giving gross earnings of $943,955.16, with net earnings of $243,955.16, after depreciation and taxes of $907,694.44, depletion, $727,995.64, and depreciation $1,744.48, leaving net income before taxes of $127,736.27. Gross operating income was higher last year than at any time since the mine began operations in 1917. The number of tons of ore milled was only exceeded by the 1920 record of 104,225 tons.

In line with Federal income tax rulings which allow particular deductions for depletion of mining properties, the company's proposed stockholders to apportion dividend payments on United Eastern stock in proportion to the percentage of depletion of the mine last year.

TO TAKE BACK BONDS

Good news for the underwriters and bond dealers who have been left with a large portion of the issue of $100,000,000 of United Eastern bonds due from the El Tigre mine, a 60 per cent bond on the company's stock, was contained in an announcement made yesterday by the company's stockholders.

The company's stockholders have agreed to extend the time available for the marketing of the bonds, and to take back the bonds at the time that any unused portion of the issue up to $10,000,000.

The action on the part of the stockholders follows a similar action taken several years ago in the case of the El Tigre mine, when the company's stockholders agreed to take back the bonds at the time that any unused portion of the issue up to $10,000,000.

Batina's body was found by his own brother, Mike Batina, who was having had a premonition that the dead man had been the victim of foul play, headed a searching party and found the body in a boat that put out

Twenty fishing boats came early for the Santa Cruz banks early Friday morning. Alone in his tiny craft, Ralph Batina had sailed within the harbor fishing fleet on the morning of the 9th inst., but failed to return.

Coming upon the drifting boat of the dead man's, Mike Batina in his excitement jumped aboard the raft without first making his own boat fast. It drifted out to sea, leaving the stranded fisherman with on the high seas in a dis-beat, alone with the mangled body of his brother. He finally attracted the attention of the fishing smack Liberty, which towed the wreck to the cannery tender Columbia. The dead man and Mike's wife were brought to Los Angeles.

The body was turned over to Detective Sergeant Andrew J. Farrell and Patrolman G. C. Willson, who Matina, unmarried, came to Los Angeles Harbor from Dalmatia.

They're still wearing 'em short in Washington, at least when they have boots as pretty as these of Miss Ann Suter.

Miss Bertha Smith, Washington's champion diver, just entering the water.

This is the latest picture of Mathilde McCormick, the daughter of the harvester king. She is to marry Max Oser, Swiss riding master, on September 7.

Lieut. Clayton Bissell, United States Army Air Service, who has just made the first continuous flight from New York to Washington and return by night. The test is regarded as of great importance to aviation.

A similar event in Eastern society was the Southampton-street Fair at Agswam Park, given for the benefit of the Southampton Hospital.

Florenz Ziegfeld, connoisseur extraordinary of beautiful figures and forms, as he looked when he arrived in New York on the S.S. Berengaria. He had but little to say about Jack Pickford and Marilyn Miller this time.

The first Russian soviet family to arrive in America "prepaid" by the Red government. They are going to Boston. Their passports cost 1,000,000 rubles. The parents are Yankel and Mrs. Bessie Teperow, at the right. The children, left to right, are Chono, 17, Yidel, 13, Sonia, 10, Esther, 16.

Los Angeles, Pasadena and Alhambra residents in particular are eagerly awaiting the announcement of the opening date of "Marcella" in the "Footlights." Marcella Anselmi is building on his estate in Alhambra, an inn which will surpass any cafe he has ever owned. There will be no more served which will far exceed anything served the most epicurean taste. The colors employed in the interior are entirely different and unusual in the extreme. This is just a suggestion that you be on the watch for the opening, and plan for your entertainment accordingly.

If you all know what a necessity a Frigidaire is to a modern refrigerator is in a home, you would certainly want one delivered with the week. Frigidaire has an electric motor, which uses enough electricity to keep the temperature right for the proper preservation of food. Small compartments make ice cubes enough for home needs and freeze all sorts of delicious desserts. The food which is saved, the annoyance you are saved by owning one—makes it almost your duty to see a Frigidaire demonstrated at 860 Metropolitan Bldg. The distributors being Eberly & Smith.

Financier's Julep

Chop enough fresh mint leaves to make 1 tablespoon, add 2 tablespoons powdered sugar and rub well together. Add cup syrup drained from crushed grapes or pineapple. 1 tablespoon lime juice and cup ice water. Allow to stand in a cold place at least 1 hour. Serve in glasses with a cube of ice in each and garnish with a sprig of mint.

Doon's tall glass of frosted chocolate taste "powerfully" good at any time it is served. These are tremendously warm days, but particularly at luncheon and in the afternoon. To make it correctly you should use McDonald's Roof Garden chocolate in the partially sweetened powder form. It is quickly and easily prepared so that the taste seems to be really everyone who tries it. Forty-two cups to a can will give you some idea of the small expense attached to serving McDonald's Roof Garden chocolate. All good grocers sell it, and can supply you with that which is in cake form as well as the more convenient can.

White for marks on furniture may be removed by wiping over with a cloth wrung as dry as possible from hot water in which a few drops of cloudy ammonia has been added.

The heat of the week past has caused many a lowly rack her brain for all the cooling viands she can serve. Naturally they must contain plenty of nourishment so that one's appetite is satisfied. It is interesting to know that L. A. Cottage Cheese, which is reasonable in price and is extremely wholesome—being made of pure Pasteurized milk and deliciously flavored with rich, thick cream—may be combined in salad with crisp, fresh vegetables, fresh dried, canned or preserved fruits, nuts, olives, rice and potatoes. With the rice and potatoes add highly flavored bright garnish like pimientos or green peppers. Celery, cucumbers, green lettuce or cabbage should be used to add succulence. All good grocers sell the L. A. Brand of cottage cheese, which is maturely packed in sun-dried little waxed cartons.

Helps for Epicures and All Who Appreciate Good Cooking

[Chief Wynne will supply the tested and proved recipes to the Times readers, secure for several months and serving to the preparation and serving of food that they may require. All recipes published in this column are the property of the Los Angeles Daily Times. Address: Chief A. L. Wynne, Kitchen, 230 S. Wells St., Chicago, Ill.]

BY CHIEF A. L. WYMAN, M. C. A.
M. R. F. Hollywood, asks why we do not print more of the unusual recipes, similar to those that we published last year. The recipes are in reply to requests sent to the writer by interested readers and if our Hollywood friend will request or suggest the names of an unusual dishes that she would like to know how to prepare, we will be more than pleased to furnish her with the recipe and directions for preparing them. The recipes will be published in this column and will not be mailed.

BUBBLE AND SQUEAK

A. J. B. Artesia, writes that she would like the recipe for linguine, bubble and squeak, appli, amble and a menu including roast guinea hen. We have two recipes for linguine, one a dessert and the other a fish dish. Which do you want?

Bubble and squeak is an old English dish made with corned beef and boiled cabbage. Place in a sauce pan half a cup of butter or beef drippings and when it is hot lay in one pound of boiled corned beef cut in thin slices and brown both sides. Remove the browned beef and lay on a hot platter where it will keep warm. Chop one head of boiled cabbage and add to the fat in the pan, fry for five minutes or until thoroughly heated. Place the fried cabbage in the center of a hot plate and lay around it the browned beef slices. In the New England States cold mashed potatoes, chopped onions and vinegar are often heated with the cabbage.

APPLE AMBER

To 1 pound of peeled and chopped apples add 1-3 of a cup of finely chopped suet, 4 tablespoons of sugar, 1/2 cup of flour and 1/2 cup of bread crumbs. Mix well and add a teaspoon of grated nutmeg, the grated rind of 1 lemon and 2 well-beaten eggs. Pour into a well-buttered mold and boil 3 hours. Serve hot with a lemon butter sauce.

ROAST GUINEA HEN

Clean and wipe dry inside and out the guinea hen and fill with dressing made by chopping fine the guinea hen liver and adding to it one small onion, one small carrot, one small piece of butter, 1/2 cup of bread crumbs, 2 tablespoons of butter, 1 egg yolk and 1/2 cup of milk. Truss the hen as you would for roast chicken and bake in a medium oven 1 1/2 hours. Let stand 15 minutes before removing from the oven dredge with flour. Serve with brown gravy and bread sauce.

MENU

Watermelon and Peach Cocktail, Cold Radishes, Ripe Olives, Diced Cucumbers, Roast Guinea Hen, Bread Sauce, Green Peas, French Style, Hearts of Lettuce, Santa Monica, Parsi Artichoke, Fig Slices, Grape Juice and Ginger Ale.

For the watermelon and peach cocktail cut the heart of a ripe watermelon and firm ripe peaches in even-sized pieces, cover them with three oranges juice and one part lemon juice, and set in the ice box until chilled. Serve in glass and garnish each glass with a cube of pineapple.

Peel and dice cucumbers and set in a bowl filled with lemon French dressing. Let stand 15 minutes and serve as a relish on leaves of crisp lettuce.

For the bread sauce place in a saucepan three-quarters of a cup of fine bread crumbs and add to them 1 cup of milk, 1 peeled onion and 1 pepper corn. Simmer for ten minutes, stirring to prevent burning. Remove the onion and pepper corn. Add one tablespoon of butter, often with two tablespoons of cream. Stir until butter is dissolved. Serve hot in a sauce boat. This sauce should be made just before serving.

For peas French style melt 2 tablespoons of butter in a saucepan and when it is just melted, but not browned, add four cups of shelled young peas, shake over the fire for a minute and then add them, half a teaspoon of salt, half a teaspoon of paprika, 3 small onions, shredded, 1/2 cup of chopped parsley. Simmer slowly until the peas are tender, then remove from the fire and stir in the well-beaten yolks of 3 eggs and stir until the egg yolks are set. Do not boil after adding egg yolks.

PARFAIT ARTICHOKES

First make 1 pint of orange custard ice cream. Then make a Caledonian cream by mixing 4 tablespoons of raspberry jam with 4 tablespoons of current jelly, 3 tablespoons of powdered sugar and 1/2 cup of cream. Beat this mixture with a rotary egg beater until it will hold its shape. Just before serving the cream mixture into the pint of orange ice cream and divide into six tall glasses. Sprinkle with a little nutmeg and place on top of each glass a strawberry dipped in powdered sugar.

LETTUCE SANTA MONICA

T. J. D. Santa Monica, wants to serve a lettuce salad for a dinner party and asks that we suggest some style that she can name Santa Monica. Clean and lay in ice-water lettuce hearts and dip them in lemon French dressing so as to thoroughly cover them, drain and place on serving plates. Pull apart the leaves and sprinkle them with a mixture made of equal parts of finely chopped celery, Roquefort cheese, and pimientos. In the center of each salad place a teaspoon of mayonnaise, dust the mayonnaise with paprika and chopped parsley.

FRENCH APPLE PIE

F. A. H. City, requests that we furnish a recipe for French apple pie. Line a deep pie tin with good, short pastry, set into it another pie tin of the same size and bake as Chinese buns. Cut and cut in quarters 12 tart apples and place them in a saucepan with three tablespoons of water, sugar, two tablespoons of butter, the rind of half a lemon, and a small piece of cinnamon. Let simmer slowly until the apples have been reduced to a thick, smooth paste. Remove the lemon peel and cinnamon. Add 1/2 cup of raisins, stewed apricots and the stiffy beaten whites of 2 eggs. Pour into the baked pie shell and when cold cover with whipped cream flavored with vanilla.

VENISON WITH SOUR CREAM

M. F. W. City, expects a friend to give her a bunch of venison and wants the recipe for cooking it with sour milk or cream. The venison should be covered with a piece of cheese cloth and hung in a cool well-ventilated place for 3 days. Remove the cloth and place in a deep dish, cover with 4 cups of vinegar, 1 cup of sour milk, 1 chopped clove of garlic, 1 sliced carrot, 6 whole cloves, 2 bay leaves and 6 peppercorns. Let stand in this mixture for 3 days, turning several times a day. Remove, place in a baking pan and cover with strips of bacon, sprinkling with pepper and flour. Bake in a moderate oven until well done, basting with the pan juices. Serve with the venison sauce and buttered noodles.

SPANISH MEAT PIE

H. V. City, wants a recipe for a Spanish meat pie made with cold, cooked chicken and sausage meat. Line a deep dish with a thin rolled pie pastry. Cut into flakes 1 cup of cooked chicken, place a layer of the chicken on the pastry, then a layer of chopped pimiento, next a thin layer of well-seasoned pork sausage meat, repeat this layer until the dish is full. Pour over a mixture of 1 tablespoon of flour, 1/2 cup of orange juice, 1/2 cup of water and a seasoning of salt. Cover with pastry and bake in a moderate oven.

FRUIT SALAD DRESSING

A. J. City, would like to know how to make a fruit salad dressing that is cooked. Mix the juice of 1 lemon with the juice of 1 orange and 1/2 cup of grapefruit juice, 1-4 of a teaspoon of paprika, 1/4 of a teaspoon of salt, and the beaten yolks of 3 eggs. Mix well and stir in 2 tablespoons of butter. Stir until thick and smooth. Remove and when thoroughly chilled dip in the stiffly beaten whites of 1 egg.

ORANGE CHARLOTTE

D. R. Long Beach, requests a recipe for orange charlotte made without any whipped cream. Dissolve one-third of a package of granulated gelatin in one-third of a cup of cold water, add to it one-third of a cup of boiling water, one cup of sugar, one cup of orange juice and one cup of grated rind of one lemon. Stir to mix well and when the mixture starts to congeal whip into it the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs. Line a mould with thin slices of sponge cake or halves of lady fingers, pour in the charlotte mixture and set in the ice box until firm.

TOMATO MINCE MEAT

H. Y. Bakersfield, had our recipe for green tomato mince meat and lost it. Request that we publish it again. This recipe was published over a year ago, so think the recipe is not new. Wash and chop four quarts of green tomatoes, place in a colander and pour boiling water through them three times. Drain well and place in a kettle with four cups of sugar, half a pound of washed, dried currants and one-half pound of chopped and seeded dried prunes. Boil slowly until tender. Add half a cup of hot vinegar. Cool and place one-half tablespoon of lemon juice, one teaspoon of cloves,

GOOD RULES TO CUT FOOD BILL

Should Learn Actual Needs for Nourishment

Approximate Allowance for One Man Given

Portions for Women May be Slightly Smaller

A working knowledge of foods may be obtained without much expenditure of time or effort. An approximate allowance for a man is:

Bread, 7 ounces daily; butter, 2 1/4 ounces; cereal (dry) 1 ounce; sugar, 1 ounce; fruit, 9 ounces; vegetables, 7 1/2 ounces; eggs, 2 1/2 ounces; fish, 4 ounces; meat, 4 ounces; potatoes, 5 ounces; milk, 4 ounces.

Portions for women may be slightly smaller. In planning for the children, consult standard authorities. Some general rules follow:

(1) Provide one quart of milk daily for each child.

(2) Serve cereal every day.

(3) Provide green vegetable and potato each day.

(4) Fruit juice for very young children.

(5) One egg piece for the young children and a digestible meat, such as lean broiled chop or roast or broiled beef for the older ones.

Food not needed to build strength is wasted and therefore expensive, both in money and health, since it disturbs digestion and adds to the initial outlay.

ITEMIZED ACCOUNT

After making a budget the next thing to do is to live within it. Then plan your expenses for food according to the standard worked out in Rule No. 1.

Reputable dealers are always glad to co-operate in keeping up food standards and will appreciate intelligent understanding thereof on the part of housewives.

COST OF FOODSTUFFS

For example, some so-called expensive cuts of meat may give more nourishment than the cheaper. It is all a matter of the actual nourishment contained in any food, as compared, pound for pound with the initial cost. A cut of meat that contains a large amount of bone and waste does not provide so much real food as a more "expensive" cut that is almost solid meat.

STUDY METHODS OF SERVING

After you have established the actual dietary needs of your family it is desirable to work out a systematic plan for control of raw food materials used. This can be done without interfering in the slightest degree with the attractive character of the home meals. Standardizing the size of portions served is an interesting subject and one that the housekeeper as a household engineer should work out herself without disturbing her family over details, until such time as she herself shall have decided upon her plan of procedure. The aim should be to avoid any hint of institutionalizing the home table, but to so know its needs as to put on food in the quantities actually required.

ASK CO-OPERATION

The housekeeper's plan, once made she will need the active co-operation of individual members of the family, both as to keeping within the budget and as regards the systematic study of actual dietary needs. This does not imply self-conscious "fussing" over food; on the contrary, it is an effective way in which to educate both children and adults in the importance of proper nutrition.

JUDICIOUS USE OF BUTTER

Furnish an adequate supply of fresh milk and butter for children and reasonable table use, but provide a good butter substitute or a "fitted milk" for cooking.

STUDY METHODS OF PRESERVATION

Whether you live in country or city it is often possible to effect a decided saving by canning, drying or preserving a temporary surplus of foods. City markets are often glutted with some particular food and the housewife who knows food preservation may buy at considerable saving.

Such knowledge often makes it possible to render inexpensive food attractive and digestible.

This will make it possible for you to save on actual food bills, and, what is of even greater importance, it will effect true economy by conserving the health of your family, since badly prepared food is worse than wasteful, it is harmful.

First of Fifty New Hollywood Cars Here Soon

The first of fifty new cars for the Hollywood line are due to arrive here within the next three weeks. Vice-President Pontius of the Pacific Electric Railway Company told the City Council yesterday. The first five cars of the order are due to leave the factory at St. Louis on August 15, and thereafter five cars will be sent to Los Angeles each week until the entire order has been filled.

The new cars when put into service will be run in trains of two and three cars each. The city's Board of Utilities is convinced that the company is using every effort to give improved service on the Hollywood line, and the only known obstacle which can delay the placing of the new cars on the line will be feature of the cars to arrive, due to the railroad strike.

NEW EDUCATIONAL HEAD FOR Y.M.C.A.

J. Gustav White, formerly international executive secretary of the United Y.M.C.A. Schools, will take up his duties Tuesday as director of education at the local Y.M.C.A. Mr. White has been connected with the Y.M.C.A. since his graduation from the University of California in 1903. In the early part of the war he served in the German prison camp, leaving that country on Ambassador Gerard's train and later taking charge of the A.E.F.'s educational work in the British Isles.

Diet and Health

POISON IVY

Picnic in the woods. Young couple a little detached from the others. Oh! the pretty leaves. I just love leaves! Let's pick a bouquet of them. Yes, let's. They are beautiful. Just like you, my sweet!

Evening of the same day. Bedroom of beautiful girl. Girl trying to go to sleep. Smarting, burning, itching. Wonders how she could have sunburned enough to cause such intense discomfort. Bedroom of the gallant lover. G. L. going to sleep, murmuring how beautiful she is! How beautiful she is!

Next day: Bedroom of beautiful girl. A figure on the bed shaped like a human being but scarcely recognizable as such. Face so swollen that eyes are closed. Flery red. Beginning tiny blisters on flery red surface. Hands, arms and legs the same. Evidence of considerable fever and great distress. Doctor at bedside. Diagnosis: Poison ivy. B. G. begs of news of her lover. Is he dying too?

Later: Lover, jaunty, debonair—entering the room of his lady with her mother. He has no vestige of poison. My, God, he murmurs, can it be my sweet? How beautiful she was! How beautiful she was!

I give this exciting little drama taken from real life. No doubt you know of many similar incidences. I give it to bring out several facts. In a case of poison ivy, poison oak, primrose and other plant poisons a great deal of the effect depends upon the individual susceptibility. What the individual susceptibility depends upon no one knows as far as I can find out. Probably our old enemy, lowered resistance and possibly inherited tendencies. I have heard of individuals who were so susceptible that they could not walk near the offending plants without being poisoned. It is said that blonds are more susceptible than brunettes. The opinions of the medical authorities on the properties of these plants are an oil and like mustard gas are very irritating to both the skin and the mucous membranes.

REMEDIES

The most modern remedy is a preventive remedy made of one part of the tincture of the plant, five parts rectified spirits and ninety-four parts syrup of orange. This is taken diluted in one-half glass of water in increasing doses, beginning with one drop after breakfast and increasing one drop after each meal until twenty-one drops are taken. This takes one week in this manner. Then one teaspoonful a day is taken all during the ivy season.

This medication causes the system gradually to manufacture a defense against the poison. It is a process of desensitization. Don't try to desensitize yourself by chewing the leaves! There is one case in medical literature of a person giving from that little procedure.

One physician in experimenting on himself to find out what would neutralize the poison, ground up the leaves, extracted the poison and mixed some of that with different chemicals. He found that when he mixed it with iodine and then rubbed that combination on his arm, it did not poison. He also found that permanganate solution, 2 per cent strength, was also effective. He recommends painting the affected places with iodine, or using hot applications of the solution of permanganate.

There seem to be hundreds of remedies listed in the literature on the subject, things with absolutely contrary chemical reactions. For instance, acids, such as vinegar and lemon juice and boric acid have been effective in some cases, and alkalis such as bicarbonate of soda and lime water in others.

Inasmuch as the poison seems to be an oil, most of the authorities recommend a thorough scrubbing of the parts with hot water and strong soap and a scrub brush to get all the oil off. Soft soap is also recommended as a remedy. It would seem wise for one affected with the poison to wear gloves and perhaps to rub a solution of lime water or soap on the exposed parts before going on a hike or picnic. I've seen on many hikes and many picnics and I am a demi-blond, but ivy poisoning has no affinity for me so I cannot give you any personal experience in this line. One personal experience is no great shucks anyway. Did you know that?

plain mold. Heat two cups of strawberries with one cup of sugar until the juice runs freely. Stir until the sugar is dissolved, but do not cook. Fill mold with the berries and set in the ice box for five hours. Unmold on a platter and garnish with whipped cream.

MUSTARD SAUCE

G. A. L. Lancaster, asks for a recipe for mustard sauce to serve with boiled beef. Blend in a saucepan one tablespoon of butter and one tablespoon of flour, when well blended stir in one cup of the stock from the boiled beef. Add one teaspoon of French mustard, one teaspoon of English mustard mixed with one tablespoon of vinegar, half a teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon of sugar and a dash of cayenne pepper. Cook slowly for ten minutes.

FICKLED FISH

T. J. Redondo, wants the recipe for pickling fish so that they will keep for two months. To two cups of vinegar add two cups of water, four cups of salt, sixteen allspice, six crushed bay leaves, and five lemon slices. Let boil five minutes, remove the lemon slices. Let simmer ten minutes. Cook a few fish at a time in this liquor until a tin can be pulled out easily. Remove the fish and pack in layers in a stone jar with a layer of raw sliced onions between each layer. Pour over all the hot liquid and seasonings, cover and store in a cool place.

MEASUREMENTS

HOUSEMAID AND WOMEN IN DIVORCE

Wife's Cross-Complaint Classes Husband as Gay He-Vamp

There were women and women in the life of Harry G. Kresler, according to a cross complaint for divorce filed yesterday by Mrs. Margaret Kresler. The house maid in the Kresler home together with a number of "women of the scarlet variety" constituted Mr. Kresler's list of friends outside his home, the complaint states.

In an action instituted some time ago Mrs. Kresler was charged with infidelity with Ted Bordon named as co-respondent. Both the wife and the man strenuously denied any knowledge of an affair and in the cross complaint filed yesterday Mrs. Kresler takes occasion to deny everything.

The wife charges her husband with taking Lena Rothnagle, the maid, on joy rides, and to dance halls. She also states that her husband associated with other women with whom she was not so well acquainted as with Lena. Mrs. Kresler is represented by Attorney J. D. F. Jennings.

CATHERINE CRYER ILL

Mayor's Daughter Suffers With Serious Malady

Catherine Cryer, the 7-year-old daughter of Mayor Cryer, is seriously ill at the Cryer residence, No. 8212 Ingraham street, Mayor Cryer said yesterday. It is feared an operation will be necessary. The little girl is suffering from swollen neck glands, and it is thought that she may be suffering from mastoiditis. The Mayor and Mrs. Cryer have summoned specialists to attend their daughter.

Mexican Held for Robbing Brawley Man

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

CALEXICO, Aug. 11.—Luis Luzzero, Mexican youth, today languishes in the El Centro Jail charged with holding up and robbing C. Kennedy, negro contractor of Brawley and relieving him of $55.

Luzzero was accompanied in the robbery by another man who is being sought. Luzzero was captured in Calexico making for the border a short time after the robbery.

Kennedy claims the two entered his house and held him at the point of a revolver. When captured Luzzero had a little over $20 in his possession and a new silk shirt. He will be arraigned later in Brawley.

BEAUTIFUL LANDSCAPING

Flowers and Shrubbery to Adorn "Times" Prize Homes Will Rival Gardens of Italy and Spain

When The Times selected the Beverly Hills Nursery to provide the landscaping for the two beautiful homes that are offered in connection with the $20,000 prize campaign, it was because of a keen appreciation of what may be accomplished "on a rood of soil" in Southern California.

Perhaps in no other land has genius been so richly expressed in landscape architecture as in the marvelous gardens that surround the famous villas of Tuscany. In the development of these magnificent homes many of the greatest artists of medieval Italy gave of their best. In that almost forgotten day the landscaping was not less important to the stately structures than were the paintings, the tapestries and the Carrara marble figures that embellished the interior.

Nowhere in America is there another spot—from the standpoint of climate and topography—that offers such possibilities for duplicating those marvelous Italian gardens as does Los Angeles, with its undulating plains and sun-crowned foothills.

Opportunities for art expression have drawn to Southern California gifted artists who see the possibilities for a revival of landscaping that may one day make the home of the Southland the Mecca of the lovers of the world. Such are the men who head the Beverly Hills Nursery—men who have sat as humble students at the feet of the greatest exponents of their art, seeking to develop their own perception and expression.

The Beverly Hills Nursery are well known to owners of beautiful homes as unusually capable engineers. But they are especially recognized as being able to furnish a garden that is in keeping with the home that it adorns.

Consistent with the rural Mediterranean type of home, which is being built for The Times in Wilshire Crest at a cost of $16,500, the Beverly Hills Nursery has planned a garden that will fittingly complement such a house. The usual profusion of flowers, shrubs and trees will be absent. There will be an ample fruit plot, however, for have the service features of the garden been overlooked. It is the Tuscan ideal that gardeners are to be lived in, rather than looked at, and it is this inviting effect that will be the objective in its creation.

Since the $20,000 bungalow is Spanish in type, the grounds that surround it will be in keeping with its Castilian character.

Tropical plants and flowers in suitable abundance will be provided. There will also be citrus, and dwarfed deciduous fruit trees. These latter will be separated along the hedge that borders the western boundary of the spacious corner lot.

This house is being built in West Hollywood tract, and because of its unusually desirable situation of a garden that will fittingly complement such a house. The usual profusion of flowers, shrubs and trees will be absent. There will be an ample fruit plot, however, for have the service features of the garden been overlooked. It is the Tuscan ideal that gardeners are to be lived in, rather than looked at, and it is this inviting effect that will be the objective in its creation.

NO TROUBLE TO SPRINKLE THE LAWN

Engineers Will Install Sprinkler Systems Beneath Turf

One of the recent announcements regarding the lawn sprinkler systems that are being installed in the $16,500 home in Wilshire Crest and the $20,000 Spanish bungalow in West Hollywood tract offered as first prizes in The Times $20,000 prize campaign is of keen interest to candidates.

Every bit of information concerning the location, construction, or installation of new and desirable features in house planning is eagerly sought by candidates. Inquiries as to this or that particular feature are constantly being made at campaign headquarters. As rapidly as details are worked out, the candidates are informed, either through the columns of The Times, or when making personal calls at the campaign office.

The sprinkler systems that are being installed by the Howard-Olsen Company in the grounds of the two beautiful Times homes, offer many superior features.

This lawn sprinkler system has been designed by capable engineers, and will be installed by skilled mechanics under careful supervision. One of the chief advantages offered by this system is ease in watering, and an even distribution of the moisture, which insures a thick, heavy turf.

The heads for the water distribution are set below the surface of the lawn, allowing the lawn mower to pass freely over them without damage to the cutting blades, or water jets.

As The Times is seeking the best service equipment available for the prize homes, this sprinkler system was selected, only after Meyer & Holler, designers of the Wilshire Crest home, and S. H. Woodruff, creator of the $20,000 bungalow in West Hollywood tract, had thoroughly investigated the Howard-Olsen Lawn Sprinkler system and become convinced of its superiority.

THRONGS VISIT NEW BUNGALOW

Will be Completed Before Campaign Ends

Quaint Spanish Lines Are Attractive

House is Marvel of Modern Convenience

Candidates in The Times $20,000 prize campaign, who are watching the construction of the $20,000 Spanish bungalow in West Hollywood tract, are familiar with the rapid progress being made. As one of The Times' first prizes, it is arousing much interest, and is daily visited by throngs of people, the majority of whom are candidates or their friends.

In designing this Spanish bungalow S. H. Woodruff, who was the architect for the adobe house in Windsor Square, determined to incorporate in it the spirit of old Spain. As the building grows and the designer's plans unfold, his success is becoming evident from day to day.

The Western Construction Company, builders of this bungalow, are making rapid strides in bringing it to completion. When the final touch is given and it is thrown open to inspection, the result will be a widely exciting rush on the part of candidates. Every one will be after the view that will mean possession of this charming home.

Beginning with a broad, solid concrete foundation, reinforced by additional supporting walls that extend the full length of the house, it is one of sound construction. Only the best of material and skilled workmanship are going into the building. That it will stand sturdily throughout the years, "four-square to the world," as honest purpose expressed in honest craftsmanship, is the future predicted for this second Times home.

All Spanish, from the deeply embossed window that faces the east—grilled and banded with wrought iron—to the arched entrance flanked by quaint torches set to guide the steps of the welcome guest when the light of day is gone, it is a picture of old Castile.

Through the deep tiled porch there is an inviting glimpse of the sparkling fountain in the patio. Tall lotus leaves, rising like fairy shields from the water, add color and beauty to the flowers and shrubs. In the fountain's basin a great creamy lotus blossom floats idly, lifting its waves against the jeweled spray that gives it life.

Easy access from the well-arranged main room had from the kitchen. This eliminates the undesirable back stairway, which is usually steep and badly lighted. The main room is also equipped with a separate bath-room—another thoughtful provision rarely found in any but palatial homes.

UTILITY PLANNED IN WILSHIRE HOME

Utility, comfort and convenience seem to have been foreseen and provided for in the planning of the Wilshire Crest home.

The kitchen is completely equipped with built-in features, such as cupboards, four bins, coolers and preserve closets. It is also fitted with white tiled drainboards provided with special sanitary cover intersections and corners. The importance of this provision is readily understood, as keeping sinks clean and wholesome is one of the housewife's most serious problems. This sink is also equipped with a

'WHO'S WHO' IN LIST OF BUILDERS

Representative Material Men and Skilled Artisans Carry on Work

Building history is being made daily by the representative group which is contributing to the splendid structure in Wilshire Crest, known as the $16,500 home, offered as one of the first prizes in The Times $20,000 prize campaign.

Here are the most notable names in the construction world of Southern California. These are men whose achievements in building place them in the front rank. Their association with The Times prize home means that the work couldn't be done any better.

Not only has the material furnished been carefully selected, but skilled artisans are being employed to carry on the work.

A glance at the names of the firms handling these subcontracts is to see "Who's Who" in the building world.

COOKING IS PLEASURE IN THIS KITCHEN

Modern Innovations Enable Housewife to Prepare Meal in Twelve Steps

"Oh, that's a wonderful kitchen!" exclaimed a woman candidate in The Times $20,000 prize campaign when shown the details of the Hoosier cabinet, and Peerless breakfast nook equipment that will be installed in the $20,000 bungalow in West Hollywood tract, which is offered as one of the first prizes.

Sincere praise indeed, and spoken from the heart of a real home maker. She assured the campaign manager that if indefatigable effort would bring her this beautiful prize, she would serve a South-western chicken dinner to all other Times candidates in celebration of the great event, and include the staff of the campaign department in the invitation!

Just to say "Hoosier cabinet, and Peerless built-in fixtures" to any other woman would be to make a housewife, is to say the very last word in modern kitchen planning.

When the architect for The Times $20,000 prize bungalow drew these plans, he kept the thought of convenience and easy working conditions for the mistress of the house at the threshold of his consciousness. While this is apparent in every corner of the house, it reaches its perfect expression in the arrangement of the kitchen. The kitchen is skillfully planned for was awarded the first prize by the Hoosier Manufacturing Company for the best design in labor-saving, the result is the "twelve-step kitchen." It has been demonstrated that a complete meal may be prepared in a kitchen of this type by taking only twelve steps. What this means to the woman who has suffered from the exhaustion that comes from working in a poorly-designed kitchen, only such a one can tell.

"Our grandmothers used to say: 'Make your head save your heels' but now we let the architect do it for us, and turn our thoughts into more intellectual channels," observed another feminine candidate, as she studied the plans for The Times $20,000 bungalow.

The Peerless breakfast cabinet that is being installed in this prize bungalow commands attention. It is so constructed that it may be folded up out of the way when not in use—both the seats and the table. The table then becomes the door to the small cupboard that holds the breakfast dishes, electric toaster, and wafer iron, or percolator—for which electric wall plugs are provided. The seats on each side of the table, which is planned to accommodate four people, also drop back into wall pockets. The nook then has the appearance of being finished in handsome paneling and may be easily cleaned with the least expenditure of time and labor.

A kitchen equipped with such a breakfast nook offers this space for many other uses when not serving its original purpose. The sewing machine may be installed there temporarily, or a rocking chair in which the maids may rest comfortably while preparing vegetables, stemming strawberries for the short-cake that is baking, or peeling and pitting fruit for the preserving kettle.

PETRIUM FOR KITCHEN IS BUNGALOW FEATURE

Every woman candidate will be deeply interested in the Petrium sanitary sink and drain board that has been installed in The Times $20,000 prize bungalow in West Hollywood tract.

Petrium offers so many advantages over the ordinary composition stone sinks in general that it commands more than passing comment. Its texture is unusually fine and close, and for that reason it is non-absorbent. Only the housewife who has labored in vain to restore her kitchen drain boards to their original pristine spotlessness can fully appreciate wood floors are being removed, and this modern type of floor takes their place. These parquet floors are very beautiful, as they are very close-grained, and take a much higher gloss when waxed than is possible with the usual type of oak floor. An additional advantage in using flooring of this character is that once the work is done and properly finished, very little care is required to keep it in condition.

PARQUET FLOORS

Thus equipped The Times' prize bungalow will offer floors of a richness and beauty found only in the most expensive homes. The candidate who stands second in vote totals and beauty found only awarded a home that will be distinctive, not only for its sound construction and modern conveniences, but for its many beautiful features as well, of which these new parquet floors are most noteworthy.

JUDGE SAYS
CCLD CASH
BOND ONLY

Ten Thousand Dollars in Real Money Needed to Get Bandit Out on Bail

Ten thousand dollars in cash must be produced before J. W. Gilkye, captured during the attempted hold-up of the Union Ice Company Wednesday night, can get out of jail. He had been at liberty on a $10,000 bond for exportation at the time his latest "job" was undertaken, and yesterday the District Attorney brought him before Judge Michael J. Roche to have the bail reset.

"We would like this man's bond set at $10,000," said the prosecutor.

"No, not $10,000 bond," replied the court. "He'll need $10,000 cash to get out of jail this time."

Every Smith, sweetheart of Edwin Burton, one of the three men who were slain during the attempt, is still being held in the County Jail. The Sheriff's investigators have ascertained that she and Burton registered at the Superior Hotel on the 4th inst. as "F. B. Miller and wife." The next night Gilkye and K. R. Finer, the latter one of the dead victims of the deputy sheriff's shotgun, took a room at the same hotel as "F. B. Miller and wife." The hotel had no intimation of the character of its guests until after the bandit was killed.

Judge to Decide Whether Assembly Candidate Has Qualifications

Whether the name of James O. Bishop, a candidate on the Republican ticket for the State Assembly from the Seventy-first District, will be printed upon the primary election ballot will probably be decided at 10 o'clock this morning in the court of Judge Toland.

A petition filed by Evan Lewis as a Republican elector in the seventy-first Assembly District seeks to prevent registering of voters from Los Angeles and printing Bishop's name on the ballot on the ground that he is still a member of the Assembly from San Diego and will continue to be so until the 1923 Legislature. Lewis also charges that Bishop has not resided in the Seventy-first Assembly District of Los Angeles the necessary time to qualify as an Assemblyman from that district.

This morning Bishop will appear in his own behalf in court and attempt to prove his residence.

SVEDROFSKY'S WILL BE BOWL SOLOISTS

Alfred Hertz has planned a most enjoyable concert program for tonight at the Bowl. The "Marriage of Figaro," by Mozart, will open the orchestral concert. This overture is an expression of the very best in the classical form of the concert. It is a masterpiece of the orchestra. Mrs. Svedrofsky is a pupil of Hubay and has graduated from the Royal Music School of Hungary.

The orchestra will play the Andante from Tchaikovsky's fifth symphony and the introduction to the third act of "Lohengrin." The concert will close with the brilliant performance by Lohengrin. The concert will be a most enjoyable one. Mrs. Svedrofsky is a pupil of Hubay and has graduated from the Royal Music School of Hungary.

Will Stage
Frolics at Ambassador

A series of midnight frolics will be staged in the Coconut Grove, Ambassador Hotel, Thursday night, beginning the 14th inst., according to J. K. Gerhart, who has recently arrived in this city.

Mr. Gerhart has for several years been manager of the Grunewald Hotel's famous Cave in New Orleans, and has also been identified in a managerial capacity with midnight frolics at the Walton Hotel, Philadelphia; the Green Mill Gardens, Chicago; and the Hotel Fontenay, Detroit. He was also director of John Galt productions in New York for eight years.

It is planned to make the first of these Coconut Grove events a carnival night in which local celebrities of stage and screen will figure, as well as the talent being brought here by Mr. Gerhart.

When asked for some definite statement as to the nature of the entertainment to be furnished at these frolics, Mr. Gerhart said that he plans a typical midnight revue in the New York style, with elaborate sets and costumes, and a beautiful band. He is expected that later in the season these frolics will become a nightly event.

BOOST BOWL CONCERTS

Continuance of the Hollywood Bowl concert series is now assured for several more weeks, at least, thanks to the responsiveness of a large audience of prominent business men, picture players and others who attended the concert given last night. During the intermission the support of the musical undertaking was urged upon the audience, with the result that a total of $5000 was raised by popular subscription, according to a statement by the Community Park and Art Association, which is sponsoring the concert. In addition to this, a large number of season tickets were sold.

A plea for the aid of the Bowl concert series was made by Hugo Kirchhoff, director of the community concert in Hollywood, and other prominent identified with music in the suburb. Such businessmen as J. F. Koepf, Correllus Cole and H. G. Chaffee, and picture people as Rupert Hughes, Mrs. Alla Nazimova, Jackie Coogan, Jessy Laasy, Bert Lottell and others were prominent among the donors of subscriptions. Many of those present gave $100 each, and some even donated more.

The greatest enthusiasm prevailed at the concert, which was attended by some 1000 persons, indicating the popularity which these summer musical events have acquired with the public.

The musical program, given under the baton of Alfred Hertz, was applauded insistently. Particularly high in favor with the audience was the "Leonore" overture by Beethoven. The Andante from the Fifth Symphony by the same composer was also magnificently interpreted.

Marietta Aldrich was the soloist, singing the "Liedstueck" from "Frisian and Laidie," which was preceded by the prelude from the same music drama. The prelude to "Lohengrin" was also given by the orchestra. The stirring overture "1812" by Tchaikovsky was vividly presented, with gunpowder explosions for the climax.

ADAMSON'S ADVENTURES

The "Control" Has No Control

By O. Jacobson

Can You Think of an Idea as Funny or Funnier Than This? If So, Send It In and Win a Cash Prize.

Starting every Friday and ending every Thursday, The Times conducts a Wad comic-strip contest. The best idea gets $10 and next $5, and all others... must be original, local, "drawable" and funny. Each picture must be described in words or a rough sketch. Title and dialogue must be supplied. All entries must be of the Wad family—Cicero Wad, the spender; Titus Wad, the nickel surfer; Mrs. Spenda Wad, club and society woman; Walt A. Wad, member of the Wad family—Cicero Wad, Jr., the baby. Write on one side of the paper only. Address all entries to Mr. Wad, care of The Times. Anyone may compete and submit as many ideas as desired. No manuscripts or drawings will be returned.
